

WISSENSCHAFTLICHE ARBEITEN UND AUSGEWÄHLTE PRESSEARTIKEL

(Oktober – Dezember 2015)

zusammengestellt von Karl-Heinz Krämer

Dies ist ein Auszug aus dem [Literatur-Gesamtverzeichnis von Nepal Research]

- Acharya, Binod. 2015. Problem in Madhes: The rulers in Kathmandu seem to have misread the motivation behind the Madhes movement. The Kathmandu Post, 12 November 2015
- Acharya, Govinda P. 2015. A failed institution: Higher education in Nepal needs a complete overhaul to make it relevant to the present. The Kathmandu Post, 22 November 2015
- Acharya, Govinda P. 2015. Higher education: Time to act now. The Himalayan Times, 16 November 2015
- Acharya, Sunil. 2015. Future perfect: Disruption of petroleum for a week brings the entire transport system to a standstill. República, 14 October 2015
- Acharya, Suresh Prasad. 2015. Nepal's humanitarian response: Best amongst worst options. The Himalayan Times, 17 November 2015
- Adhikari, Bipin. 2015. The issue of Madhes is more political than constitutional. Interview. The Kathmandu Post, 19 October 2015
- Adhikari, Devendra. 2015. Electricity development: Let us correct the price. The Himalayan Times, 31 December 2015
- Adhikari, Dharma. 2015. Crisis of representation: Indian media are getting a lot of flak for untruthful, dishonest and unreliable coverage of Nepal. República, 20 October 2015
- Adhikari, Dharma. 2015. Let 'em know: Data on media ownership and transparency is limited, largely because of insufficient laws to make media organizations disclose information. República, 3 November 2015
- Adhikari, Dharma. 2015. Mobile nation: With mobile, our staple media, every man is his own gatekeeper, spectator and receiver at the same time. República, 17 November 2015
- Adhikari, Dharma. 2015. Southern voices: The coverage in India focused on the violent scenes of Madhesh, downplaying the gains in fundamental rights and inclusive polity. República, 6 October 2015
- Adhikari, Jagannath. 2015. Blockade as blackmail: If anything, India should be concerned about how its fuel embargo has disrupted lives and angered Nepalis. The Kathmandu Post, 2 November 2015
- Adhikari, Jagannath. 2015. Fuel and freedom: If anything, this blockade should motivate Nepal to become food and energy secure. The Kathmandu Post, 11 October 2015
- Adhikari, Jagannath. 2015. Looking for options: For Nepal to become energy efficient it has to diversify its trade with other countries. The Kathmandu Post, 16 November 2015
- Adhikari, Sharada. 2015. Impact of climate change on South Asia: Nepal's economy among hardest hit. The Himalayan Times, 2 October 2015
- Amerasinghe, Priyanie / Sugden, Fraser. 2015. No place called home: Without water, people will continue to migrate elsewhere in search of employment. The Kathmandu Post, 22 November 2015
- Ansari, Mohna. 2015. Both security forces, protesters violated human rights in Tarai. Interview. The Kathmandu Post, 2 November 2015
- Aryal, Trailokya Raj. 2015. Interpreting China: Chinese presence and influence is everywhere but China is not flaunting it, something the Indians like to do in Nepal. República, 31 October 2015

Aryal, Trailokya Raj. 2015. Losing Nepal: Indian reaction to new constitution in Nepal has similarities with American reaction to founding of People's Republic of China. República, 7 October 2015

Aryal, Trailokya Raj. 2015. The Bangla solution: It will be naïve to expect China won't seek anything in return. It will look to increase its influence in Nepal. República, 19 October 2015

Asia, Foundation, The. 2015. Aid and Recovery in Post-Earthquake Nepal Independent Impacts and Recovery Monitoring Phase 1 Qualitative Field Monitoring: June 2015. The Asia Foundation, September 2015

Asia, Foundation, The. 2015. Aid and Recovery in Post-Earthquake Nepal Independent Impacts and Recovery Monitoring Phase 1 Quantitative Survey: June 2015. The Asia Foundation, September 2015

Asia, Foundation, The. 2015. Synthesis Report: Independent Impacts and Recovery Monitoring Nepal Phase 1: June 2015. The Asia Foundation, September 2015

Bajracharya, Siddhartha B. 2015. When man and elephant collide. The Kathmandu Post, 1 December 2015

Baniya Chhetri, Suprabha. 2015. Saving biosphere: Many countries have designated biosphere reserves to protect biodiversity. But not Nepal. República, 7 October 2015

Baral, Biswas. 2015. Great Indian Desert: Fear of China is making India act in all kinds of irrational ways, the most recent manifestation of which is economic blockade of Nepal. República, 19 November 2015

Baral, Biswas. 2015. License to thrill: Without the 1923 treaty of peace and friendship with the British it would have been hard to establish Nepal's sovereignty abroad. República, 31 December 2015

Baral, Biswas. 2015. The China card: The temptation for China to play the knight in shining armor that comes to Nepal's miraculous rescue is getting harder to resist. República, 8 October 2015

Baral, Biswas. 2015. Whither SAARC? Many are starting to question the relevance of SAARC if it can't do anything to protect less powerful members like Nepal and Maldives. República, 5 November 2015

Baral, Jagadish Chandra. 2015. Harnessing water: A holistic approach is needed to build the resilience of communities to climate change. The Kathmandu Post, 25 October 2015

Baral, Lok Raj. 2015. Internal medicine: Nepal should first set its house in order and then reassess Nepal-India relations. The Kathmandu Post, 26 October 2015

Basnet, Gyan. 2015. Out of frying pan: Nepal should learn from the ongoing blockade and end its dependency on India. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Basnet, Gyan. 2015. Uneasy neighbour: Nepal should learn from the recent turn of events and redefine its relationships with other countries. The Kathmandu Post, 27 October 2015

Benham, Charlotte. 2015. Petro Politics In Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 7 November 2015

Bhandari, Bishnu Prasad. 2015. Neighbourly lessons: There are a few lessons we can learn from other countries to boost our shaky economy. The Kathmandu Post, 23 December 2015

Bhandari, Jhabindra. 2015. Battling the virus: Political commitment is key to preventing and controlling the spread of HIV/AIDS. The Kathmandu Post, 7 October 2015

Bhandari, Jhabindra. 2015. Civil Society Partnership In HIV/AIDS Response: Reducing Stigma And Discrimination. The Rising Nepal, 27 October 2015

Bhandari, Jhabindra. 2015. Food security: Emerging priority. The Himalayan Times, 28 October 2015

Bhandari, Ram Kumar. 2015. Old habits die hard: The Nepali state remains hesitant to investigate and prosecute acts of human rights violations. The Kathmandu Post, 9 November 2015

Bhandari, Ram Kumar. 2015. Pulled back in: Nepal must address the issue of structural violence to prevent its relapse into conflict. The Kathmandu Post, 10 December 2015

Bhandari, Surendra. 2015. Indian imposition: The Modi government's blockade on Nepal violates multiple international laws. The Kathmandu Post, 12 October 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. A Leader Who Stands Out From The Crowd. The Rising Nepal, 16 October 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. Borrowed ideas and captive minds. The Rising Nepal, 27 November 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. Canary In A Coal Mine. The Rising Nepal, 9 October 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. Demolishing The Wall Of Mistrust. The Rising Nepal, 20 November 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. Nepal-India Relation At The Crossroads. The Rising Nepal, 30 October 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. What is to be done? The Rising Nepal, 6 November 2015

Bharadwaj, Narad. 2015. Whither Nepal- India Relation? The Rising Nepal, 2 October 2015

Bhatta, Gunakar. 2015. Parting ways: In the long run, the blockade will misfire at India's geopolitical and economic dominance in Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 23 November 2015

Bhatta, Gunakar. 2015. Reviving ties: Economic embargo has hampered recovery and rehabilitation works post-earthquake. República, 5 October 2015

Bhatta, Meena. 2015. Matter of trust: Inability of the political parties to rise above party politics has lead citizens to lose faith on the government and its institutions. The Kathmandu Post, 4 October 2015

Bhattarai, Baburam. 2015. Naya Shakti for changing times for economic development. Interview. The Kathmandu Post, 21 December 2015

Bhattarai, Keshab Prasad. 2015. Federal blues: Post-blockade the debate has shifted to how New Delhi will shape Nepali politics through its coercive tactics. República, 21 November 2015

Bhattarai, Prakash. 2015. Beyond just voice: A stronger civil society could provide constructive solutions to the country's political problems. The Kathmandu Post, 27 October 2015

Bhattarai, Pranav. 2015. Asymmetric Federalism: A Tool To Manage Ethnic Diversity. The Rising Nepal, 3 October 2015

Bhujju, Dinesh. 2015. Saving biosphere: Many countries have designated biosphere reserves to protect biodiversity. But not Nepal. República, 7 October 2015

Bhujju, Kriti. 2015. A forgettable year for tourism? República, 31 December 2015

Bhusal, Thira L. 2015. On the edge: The new constitution was to resolve our political problems; Instead, it gave rise to a whole new set of issues. República, 2 October 2015

Bista, Kirti Nidhi. 2015. Don't bully us: Nepal has always tried to live with India in peace and harmony despite India's highhandedness and unnecessary interference. República, 24 November 2015

Bom, Prakash. 2015. More action, less words: The new constitution should be amended immediately to address the Tarai agitation. The Kathmandu Post, 15 December 2015

Budha Magar, Prakash. 2015. Fight against hunger: Ensuring food security means increasing accessibility too, not only boosting output. The Kathmandu Post, 28 October 2015

Chaudhary, Randhir. 2015. Lay it on the table: Bhattarai has embarked on a public relations campaign, but his goals are not clear. The Kathmandu Post, 20 October 2015

Dahal, Ashok / Shrestha, Shreejana. 2015. Social change through political empowerment? Nepal gets first female President and Speaker of the Parliament in 2015. República, 31 December 2015

Dangal, Prem. 2015. Investment wanted: Nepal's goal to graduate from an LDC to a developing country requires huge capital. The Kathmandu Post, 9 October 2015

Dangal, Prem. 2015. Let's roll up our sleeves: A self-reliant and independent Nepal should be the goal of the new government. The Kathmandu Post, 1 December 2015

Devkota, Satic C. / Kapri, Kul / Upadhyay, Mukti. 2015. Firm Size, Foreign Exposure and Inequality in Wage: A Decomposition Analysis. The Development Journal of the South 1:1,82-93

Dischoe, Oli. 2015. Come back, tourists: Nepali authorities and the European media have both aggravated the tourism crisis in Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 1 November 2015

Dixit, Mani. 2015. Advocacy for self-reliance: Lessons must be learnt. The Himalayan Times, 4 December 2015

Dixit, Niranjana Mani. 2015. Removing the bottlenecks: The undeclared economic blockade has brought Nepal-India ties to their lowest ebb. The Kathmandu Post, 22 December 2015

Dixit, Sameer Mani. 2015. Disease surveillance: Though Nepal has made great strides in the health sector, it is yet to take significant steps in disease surveillance and research. The Kathmandu Post, 6 November 2015

Dulal, Pratichya. 2015. Half widows have little hope for justice: Even as they emerge from the conflicts that took their husbands, the lives of 'half widows' continue to be stricken with strife and stigma. The Kathmandu Post, 7 November 2015

Folmar, Steven. 2015. Discourse on dignity: The first step to dignifying Dalits is to consistently address Dalit issues. República, 8 October 2015

G.C., Yubak Dhoj. 2015. Beyond rice: There are ways to ensure food security in the context of the ongoing blockade. The Kathmandu Post, 24 November 2015

G.C., Yubak Dhoj. 2015. Good food: Biopesticides provide a viable alternative to conventional pesticides. The Kathmandu Post, 10 November 2015

Galimberti, Simone. 2015. Have skill, will work: Concrete actions to offer jobs to youths with disabilities are all doable and possible. The Kathmandu Post, 29 November 2015

Gautam, Dipendra. 2015. Rebuilding rural Nepal: Lessons for improvement. The Himalayantimes, 20 November 2015

Gautam, Dipendra. 2015. Reconstruction materials: Reuse the rubble. The Rising Nepal, 1 October 2015

Gautam, Manish. 2015. Lives in peril: As the blockade and protests continue, patients struggle to get adequate medical care. The Kathmandu Post, 28 November 2015

Gautam, Manish. 2015. Medical education in jeopardy: Five months after the earthquakes, it is now the educational services provided by hospitals that are taking a hit: institutions with damaged infrastructure are reducing student-intake numbers. The Kathmandu Post, 3 October 2015

Gautam, Manoj. 2015. The Blockade. The Rising Nepal, 9 October 2015

Ghale, Shesh. 2015. Housekeeping first: PM KP Oli must revive the Reconstruction Authority to jumpstart rebuilding and redevelopment. The Kathmandu Post, 15 October 2015

Ghimire, Alysia. 2015. Economic Aspects Of Federalisation: Nepal's Context. The Rising Nepal, 3 October 2015

Ghimire, Binod. 2015. A bad year for schools: The current academic session is turning out to be the worst in history. The Kathmandu Post, 28 November 2015

Ghimire, Narayan Prasad. 2015. Focusing ICT For Development. The Rising Nepal, 20 December 2015

Ghimire, Sarin. 2015. Misplaced priorities: As voices continue to raise concerns, it is high time that citizens realised that the country cannot be held hostage by a few obstinate ones. The Kathmandu Post, 19 December 2015

Ghimire, Subhash. 2015. 1989 revisited: It is also ironic that the most powerful member of SAARC and BIMSTEC is imposing a choking blockade on the current chair of both the regional bodies. República, 12 October 2015

Gupta, Avinash. 2015. Flawed charter: Our suboptimal performance as a nation and an economy is due to the policy of exclusion practised by ruling elites. República, 15 October 2015

Gurung, Chun Bahadur. 2015. The forgotten folks: Nepal must do more to address the needs of its senior citizens. The Kathmandu Post, 6 October 2015

Gurung, Gyanendra. 2015. Tale of two quakes: The delay in passing the reconstruction bill shows that our leaders are not serious about rebuilding Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 5 October 2015

Gurung, Gyanendra. 2015. Training for development: Decades-long donor-funded and I/NGOs-driven disaster risk reduction programmes may not be trusted. The Kathmandu Post, 21 December 2015

Gurung, Priyanka. 2015. Capturing the culture. República, 6 November 2015

Gurung, Priyanka. 2015. q. República, 20 November 2015

Haidar, Salman. 2015. Roller-coaster diplomacy: What was regarded as a showpiece of close neighbourly relations has become a problem area. The Kathmandu Post, 8 October 2015

Harris, Mark. 2015. The story of a wall: The tongue-in-cheek war for public space between artists and political activists rages on at Hotel Himalaya's boundary wall at Kupondole. The Kathmandu Post, 19 December 2015

Hozumi, Tomoo. 2015. Young minds: Involvement of children in recent political protests does not qualify as the exercise of their right to participation. The Kathmandu Post, 17 December 2015

Hurtes, Sarah Ivy. 2015. A horrible business: Nepal needs accurate data and urgent action to ensure that human trafficking does not continue to persist at disturbing rates. The Kathmandu Post, 27 November 2015

Jeevan, Jainendra. 2015. Impossible dream: Pain inflicted by the agitation and blockade does not seem to mean anything to Madhesi leaders. The Kathmandu Post, 25 October 2015

Jeevan, Jainendra. 2015. The not-so-new force: BRB's party will be just another breakaway group of the erstwhile united Maoist party. The Kathmandu Post, 22 November 2015

Jeevan, Jainendra. 2015. The tyranny of choice: Federalisation of the hitherto unitary state was never a well-thought-out notion to begin with. The Kathmandu Post, 13 December 2015

Jha, Amar Kant. 2015. Listen to the people: Protests could flare up if the government does not amend the faulty federal design and carve two provinces in the Tarai. The Kathmandu Post, 1 November 2015

Jha, Bina. 2015. Women in politics: Equal treatment is a must. The Himalayan Times, 11 December 2015

Jha, Daulat. 2015. Unblocking the deadlock: The "unannounced blockade" by India has distracted us from the real issues that plague us as a nation. República, 1 October 2015

Jha, Dipendra. 2015. Dateline Birgunj: Madhesis could feel further alienated by the state if the movement does not bring any substantive change. The Kathmandu Post, 14 December 2015

Jha, Hari Bansh. 2015. Don't blame India: It is far easier for the Nepali ruling elite to point an accusing finger at India than negotiate in earnest with its own people. República, 10 October 2015

Jha, Hari Bansh. 2015. Home made: Foreign Minister Kamal Thapa visited New Delhi for easing of supplies without bothering to first negotiate with the Madheshi and Tharu groups. República, 4 November 2015

Jha, Hari Bansh. 2015. Honesty, please: Vested interests played the spoilsport when the government talks team was making headway in negotiations with agitating groups. República, 21 November 2015

Jha, Jivesh. 2015. Master of lies: He has been misrepresenting Madheshis with all the nonsense and hate speeches he delivers. República, 11 November 2015

Jha, Kalpana. 2015. Heed Madhesh: Demands for recognition, provincial autonomy and proportional representation have always been there. República, 18 November 2015

Jha, Ratan K. 2015. Help from abroad: Non-Resident Nepalis can provide much needed resources and expertise to rebuild Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 12 October 2015

Jha, Roshan Kumar. 2015. Misuse Of Children In Madhes Movement. The Rising Nepal, 3 November 2015

Joshi, Dirgha Raj. 2015. Moving ahead: The government needs to prioritise economic growth and development. The Kathmandu Post, 29 December 2015

Joshi, Sudiksha / Adhikari, Sushil. 2015. A price worth paying: Nepal has the potential to produce biofuels and become energy independent. The Kathmandu Post, 4 November 2015

K.C., Anuja. 2015. Mind the gap: It's vital to increase participation of women in media if Nepal wants a progressive future. República, 4 November 2015

K.C., Gaurab. 2015. Collective cruelty: Indian state has sought to co-opt Nepali stakeholders including its bureaucrats and intelligentsia. República, 3 November 2015

K.C., Shyam. 2015. A time to act: PM Oli cannot afford to be complacent as the country is facing multiple crises. The Kathmandu Post, 16 October 2015

K.C., Shyam. 2015. Escape plan: The country needs a strategy to break away from the stranglehold some countries have over Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 30 October 2015

K.C., Shyam. 2015. Facing Difficult Times. The Rising Nepal, 6 October 2015

K.C., Shyam. 2015. Neighbours, not friends: The current state of affairs in Nepal is an outcome of the nation's repeated failure at learning from the past. The Kathmandu Post, 2 October 2015

K.C., Shyam. 2015. Wisdom And Foresight. The Rising Nepal, 13 October 2015

Kafle, Mira. 2015. Still second sex: Despite the election of a female president, Nepal needs to do a lot more to empower its women. The Kathmandu Post, 6 November 2015

Kainee, David. 2015. A charged view: Nepal has adequate potential to generate the much-needed energy. The Kathmandu Post, 25 October 2015

Kainee, David. 2015. The long wait: Seven months have passed since the quake, but the victims are yet to be rehabilitated. The Kathmandu Post, 8 December 2015

Karki, Hitesh. 2015. All too confusing: It was impossible to imagine Modi, who charmed us all during his two Nepal visit, would stop us from celebrating Dashain. República, 31 October 2015

Karki, Hitesh. 2015. Madhesh musings: In my childhood I couldn't imagine all of Madhesh burning in unison demanding rights and justice. República, 3 October 2015

Karki, Lok Man Singh. 2015. Fight against corruption: Expectations and realities. The Himalayan Times, 22 December 2015

Karki, Rohit. 2015. Bihar and blockade: When Bihar election results are out on November 8th the economic blockade could gradually ease. República, 5 November 2015

Karki, Rohit. 2015. India at loss: If India cannot have stable relationship with neighbors like Nepal, there will be doubts about its global role. República, 12 October 2015

Katuwal, Hari / Qassim, Mona K. / Pagán, José A. / Thacher, Jennifer A. / Bohara, Alok K. 2015. Knowledge, Information, and Water Treatment Behavior of Residents in the Kathmandu Valley, Nepal. The Development Journal of the South 1:1, 3-23

Khadka, Navin Singh. 2015. Devil in the detail: The major players are happy about the Paris climate deal, but should least developed countries like Nepal be elated? The Kathmandu Post, 18 December 2015

Khadka, Navin Singh. 2015. President's precedent: The new head of the state should give continuity to her predecessor's nature conservation efforts. The Kathmandu Post, 30 October 2015

Khadka, Navin Singh. 2015. Prospects in Paris: Nepal could drum up support at the global climate summit to turn its fuel crisis into a low carbon opportunity. The Kathmandu Post, 27 November 2015

Khadka, Navin Singh. 2015. The powers that be: If Nepal does not focus on generating hydroelectricity for energy security even after the ongoing fuel crisis, it never will. The Kathmandu Post, 2 October 2015

Khanal, Ajaya Bhadra. 2015. Blame game: Now that all parties have agreed to revise the constitution, it is time to de-escalate conflict and restart public dialogue. The Kathmandu Post, 25 November 2015

Khanal, Ajaya Bhadra. 2015. Geostrategic disaster: If we are to rescue the constitution, the government must reach a compromise with the Madhesi people. The Kathmandu Post, 11 November 2015

Khanal, Ajaya Bhadra. 2015. Living with dualities: The nation is moving in a trajectory that can only lead to violence. The Kathmandu Post, 23 December 2015

Khanal, Ajaya Bhadra. 2015. Oli way out: Making Oli the next PM is still the best option to salvage the constitution out of the current morass. The Kathmandu Post, 7 October 2015

Khanal, Ajaya Bhadra. 2015. Self-fulfilling prophecy: It is time politicians stop sacrificing Nepali people for political exigencies. The Kathmandu Post, 28 October 2015

Khanal, Geha Nath. 2015. Gendercide: Nepal needs serious advocacy against sex-selective abortion to put an end to it. The Kathmandu Post, 13 October 2015

Khanal, Mukesh. 2015. Disturbing silence: Why is India using a wartime tactic against Nepal? Whatever the intended results, does India truly believe that the means justifies the end? República, 28 October 2015

Khanal, Mukesh. 2015. Nobel profession: There are efforts to ensure that despite the loss of traditional systems Nepalis continue to have access to mediation for dispute resolution. República, 14 October 2015

Khanal, Rajesh. 2015. No end in sight: The government was ill-prepared to deal with economic blockades of the sort Nepal is currently living through. The Kathmandu Post, 3 October 2015

Khanal, Rajesh. 2015. Spiralling out of control: For a country that was already reeling under the strains caused by the earthquakes, recuperating from yet another crisis so soon will prove exceedingly difficult. The Kathmandu Post, 7 November 2015

Kharel, Pranab. 2015. Cancer Of Media Concentration. The Rising Nepal, 28 December 2015

Kharel, Pranab. 2015. Not by chance: Bhandari's win has to be viewed in terms of changes in Nepali social structure in the past three decades. República, 4 November 2015

Kharel, Pranab / K.C., Gaurab. 2015. The Madhesi cauldron: Kathmandu's power wielders have not realised that there has been a tectonic shift in the plains. The Kathmandu Post, 2 October 2015

Kharel, Pranab / Karki, Rohit. 2015. Déjà vu: India imposes blockade to prop up anti-establishment forces. It has been trying to bring Madheshi parties to the center of power. República, 6 October 2015

Khatry, Prem K. 2015. Celebrating Nepal's Presidential Election: Female Power Rising. The Rising Nepal, 3 November 2015

Khatry, Prem K. 2015. Committed RA Needed For Reconstruction. The Rising Nepal, 15 December 2015

Khatry, Prem K. 2015. Embargo: Is It Or Is It Not? The Rising Nepal, 6 October 2015

Khatry, Prem K. 2015. Laughing With The PM To Remain Healthy. The Rising Nepal, 29 December 2015

Khatry, Prem K. 2015. Terai: A Chilling Protest And Useless Death. The Kathmandu Post, 22 December 2015

Khatry, Ramesh. 2015. Lessons of history: If Nepal were to become another Sikkim, our past kings and leaders should be blamed. The Kathmandu Post, 20 November 2015

Köhler, Gabriele. 2015. Still crying for Nepal – six months later. Author: www.gabrielekoehler.net

Koirala, Laxmi Bilas. 2015. Desperate times: Due to the Indian blockade Nepali people are being forced to live like refugees in their own country. The Kathmandu Post, 29 December 2015

Koirala, Maharaj. 2015. Asset management: State governments will continue to depend on the centre for funds as it collects most of the taxes even under the federal setup. The Kathmandu Post, 20 October 2015

Koirala, Naresh. 2015. Out with the old: The only way out of current crises facing Nepal is to pass the leadership baton to the younger generation. The Kathmandu Post, 09 December 2015

Koirala, Pratistha. 2015. MDGs and children: Way forward. The Himalayan Times, 23 December 2015

Koirala, Pratistha. 2015. Saving the children: As the welfare of kids is linked to their parents, livelihood programmes for adults could aid child protection. The Kathmandu Post, 20 November 2015

Kumar, Sanjay. 2015. Yes, we CAAN: CAAN still relies on the old tippani/aadesh system while making and executing important decisions. República, 31 December 2015

Kunwar, Niranjana. 2015. An uphill struggle It is necessary to engage a wider audience to solve the problems that plague Nepal's education system. The Kathmandu Post, 15 November 2015

Kunwar, Niranjana. 2015. Crafty lessons: Regular supervision is the least the govt can do to ensure that a school functions smoothly. The Kathmandu Post, 20 December 2015

Labh, Bhabes Kumar. 2015. Hazardous complacency: Any political gimmick to deny the legitimate demands of the Madhes will push the nation into further chaos. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Labh, Bhabes Kumar. 2015. Please the plains: Madhesis are as Nepali as anyone else, so the government must address their concerns. The Kathmandu Post, 14 October 2015

Labh, Bhabes Kumar / Ojha, Laxmi Prasad. 2015. A divided self: The notion of Nepali nationalism which excludes the Madhesis and Tharus will only weaken the nation. The Kathmandu Post, 16 November 2015

Lal, C.K. 2015. Cost of obduracy: This government can probably still bear the cost of its vacuous patriotism. But the nation will have to pay a heavy price. República, 16 November 2015

Lal, C.K. 2015. Crossing humane boundaries: Further politicization and internationalization of plight of Madheshis have perhaps become inevitable. República, 19 October 2015

Lal, C.K. 2015. Faux patriotism redux: If there are similarities between 1989-90 and now, they seem to have completely escaped Premier Oli and team. República, 2 November 2015

Lal, C.K. 2015. The risk of intractability: Normalcy will be found only during brief interludes if intransigency supersedes sagacity in negotiations with Madheshis and Tharus. República, 5 October 2015

Lamichhane, Jaya. 2015. Breaking the silence: India has its own interest behind the blockade but why has the international community not spoken about it? The Kathmandu Post, 10 November 2015

Lamsal, Subrata. 2015. It's just business: India's hunger for energy could be a reason behind its interest in Nepal's yet to be carved federal provinces. The Kathmandu Post, 24 November 2015

Lawoti, Mahendra. 2015. Samvidhanma nyun sahabhagita : Dosro samvidhan sabhama sahabhagitalai durupyog garna khojeko dekhincha. Simantakrit samudayasanga kahilekahin paramarsha lieko jasto gariyo, tara adharbhut sallaha sujhav ra mag pura gariena. Nagarik, 13 October 2015

Lawoti, Surendra. 2015. The man from Limbuwan: A tribute to my father Padma Sundar Lawoti. The Kathmandu Post, 1 November 2015

Lohani, Basanta. 2015. Modi's Waterloo? India has not been able to accept never-colonized Nepal as independent country. República, 1 October 2015

Lohani, Prakash Chandra. 2015. India exposed: India's blockade conveys the message that SAARC region is under Indian sphere and any country that believes otherwise will face consequences. República, 29 October 2015

Lohani, Prakash Chandra. 2015. Reasons to worry: The current government has miserably failed to address the ongoing crises in the country. The Kathmandu Post, 22 December 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Calibre Of Government Under Test. The Rising Nepal, 31 December 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Government's Policy Of Drift? The Rising Nepal, 19 November 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Lessons From The Embargo. The Rising Nepal, 8 October 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Looming Energy Crisis: Search For Alternatives. The Rising Nepal, 29 October 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Time To Think About Economic Autarky. The Rising Nepal, 15 October 2015

Maharjan, Uttam. 2015. Undeclared Embargo: Against International Law. The Rising Nepal, 1 October 2015

Mahat, Ram Sharan. 2015. Constitutional rumblings: Allegations about the constitution being elitist and non-inclusive are distressingly jarring. The Kathmandu Post, 20 November 2015

Manandhar, Narayan. 2015. A broken system: There are talks about amending the new statute even before it has been enforced. The Kathmandu Post, 8 October 2015

Manandhar, Narayan. 2015. Passing the buck: Soon enough, the new PM is likely to find daggers pointing at him from all directions. The Kathmandu Post, 19 October 2015

Mandal, Ganesh. 2015. Constitutional challenges: The sentiments of the Madheshi people have been badly hurt; They are thus agitating to ensure their dignity, identity, rights and representation at any cost. República, 9 November 2015

Manhart, Christian. 2015. Power of the adolescent girl: Girls' personal and collective growth can contribute to solving the emerging global problems. The Kathmandu Post, 11 October 2015

Mishra, Birendra Prasad. 2015. Welcoming new Constitution: Now, its execution. The Himalayan Times, 16 October 2015

Mishra, Khusbhu. 2015. Pay attention: Join hands with the Madhesis who are fighting to end ethnic discrimination. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. Betrayal of the knowledgeable: Nepal is where it is not just because of ignorance of the masses, but also the betrayal from the academics. The Kathmandu Post, 29 October 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. Errors and lies: The three major parties have failed the litmus test to lead a multicultural country. The Kathmandu Post, 1 October 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. Hazardous hypocrisy: To save Nepal from future troubles, the Madhesi and Tharu issue needs to be resolved through negotiation. The Kathmandu Post, 15 October 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. Lies, damn lies: Nepalis need to take collective ownership of the past instead of being swayed by the likes of Indian MP Iyer. The Kathmandu Post, 10 December 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. Shifting identities: There is a need to deconstruct the notions of 'Nepali' identity and nationalism. The Kathmandu Post, 26 November 2015

Mishra, Pramod. 2015. State of crisis: This loss of credibility of the ruling class is the biggest crisis Nepal is facing right now. The Kathmandu Post, 12 November 2015

Mishra, Shiva Raj. 2015. Give it a shot: Local production of medicines should be included in the national development agenda. The Kathmandu Post, 15 December 2015

Mulmi, Subin. 2015. Divided loyalties: Fledgling political analysts on social media should focus on decreasing ethnic tensions instead of fueling it. The Kathmandu Post, 6 October 2015

Neupane, Sudarshan. 2015. Let them in: It is crucial to ensure that disabled people benefit from the policies made for them. The Kathmandu Post, 15 December 2015

Neupane, Sudarshan. 2015. The missing millions: Programmes for the disabled must be redesigned to employ persons with disabilities. The Kathmandu Post, 26 October 2015

Oser, Zack / Adhikari, Sushil. 2015. A window for diplomacy: Peace parks could be a constructive solution to the border disputes between India and Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 29 October 2015

Panday, Meena B. 2015. A journey to safe birthing station: To help uplift reproductive health of mothers in Mugu. The Himalayan Times, 19 December 2015

Pandey, Geeta. 2015. The melting north: Life has become harder in the highlands, but the government has other things on its mind. The Kathmandu Post, 11 December 2015

Pandey, Seema. 2015. Move on: The country might have to face dire consequences if the Madhesi demands are not fulfilled. The Kathmandu Post, 30 December 2015

Pandey, Umanga. 2015. Free the market: The fuel crisis is a result of the monopoly of Nepal Oil Corporation over the import of petroleum products. The Kathmandu Post, 20 October 2015

Pandey, Umanga. 2015. Stand together: The Madhes Andolan is an opportunity for us to push for transparent and inclusive political dialogues. The Kathmandu Post, 17 November 2015

Pandit, Anju / Karky, Bhaskar Singh. 2015. When grids collide: MHP development and power diversification. The Rising Nepal, 27 November 2015

Paneru, Yogendra P. 2015. Preventive diplomacy: Track two diplomacy can resolve the current Nepal-India imbroglio, but it is a skill Kathmandu lacks. The Kathmandu Post, 18 December 2015

Paneru, Yogendra P. 2015. The bigger bully: The crisis in Nepal will not end unless the international community asks India to respect the rights of a landlocked country. The Kathmandu Post, 17 November 2015

Pangeni, Rudra. 2015. The hydropower pipe dream. República, 31 December 2015

Pant, Bhubanesh. 2015. Financial inclusion: Challenges remain. The Himalayan Times, 6 November 2015

Pant, Girish P. 2015. Agricultural price policy: Some thoughts. The Himalayan Times, 18 December 2015

Parajuli, Anjita. 2015. Means and ends: All the parties involved in the current conflict need to rise to the occasion and think about the people first. The Kathmandu Post, 24 November 2015

Parajuli, John Narayan. 2015. After the Paris climate deal. The Kathmandu Post, 19 December 2015

Parajuli, John Narayan. 2015. Creating Nepal's own Quartet: The current escalation of conflict between the state and Madhes calls for the creation of a credible national dialogue mechanism to facilitate a compromise. The Kathmandu Post, 21 November 2015

Parajuli, Karuna. 2015. Go global: If India does not relent Nepal should take blockade to International Court of Justice. República, 12 October 2015

Parajuli, Krishna Raj. 2015. Alternative investment funds: Private equity pooling. The Himalayan Times, 14 October 2015

Parajuli, Shobhakar. 2015. Migrants in trouble: Doing away with anomalies. The Himalayan Times, 8 December 2015

Parajuli, Shobhakar. 2015. Nepali migrants: In search of better opportunities. The Himalayan Times, 2 November 2015

Parajuli, Shobhakar. 2015. New Constitution: Ensuring human rights. The Himalayan Times, 13 October 2015

Pariyar, Kamal. 2015. Testing times for security forces: The natural disaster provided an opportunity for the security forces to prove themselves during the time of need. República, 31 December 2015

Pariyar, Raj. 2015. Double trouble: The Dalit community has faced discrimination in relief distribution after the Great Quake. The Kathmandu Post, 30 December 2015

Paudel, Deepesh. 2015. Dramatic solutions: Nepali theatre has come a long way in the last decade but it still has a lot more to learn. The Kathmandu Post, 15 November 2015

Paudel, Ganesh. 2015. Biodiversity Conservation. The Rising Nepal, 31 October 2015

Paudyal, Durga Prasad. 2015. Hydro solutions: India has always negotiated mega projects during politically difficult times so as to have an upper hand. República, 19 October 2015

Paudyal, Mahabir. 2015. Cruel intentions: The current standoff between India and Nepal is about whether Nepal should remain as an independent country; When intentions are cruel, no solution works. República, 20 October 2015

Paudyal, Mahabir. 2015. Hobson's choice: Victim narrative has its merits; Once you are projected as a victim all shortcomings are ignored; Even violence is justified. República, 7 November 2015

Paudyal, Mahabir. 2015. Selective reading: It is worthwhile revisiting arguments Morcha has been presenting as keys to resolution of the current crisis. República, 24 November 2015

Pokharel, Kushal. 2015. An Uphill Task Ahead Of Oli. The Rising Nepal, 16 October 2015

Pokharel, Kushal. 2015. Coping With The Impact Of Strike And Blockade. The Rising Nepal, 7 November 2015

Pokharel, Kushal. 2015. Emerging Discourse On Need Of New Political Force. The Rising Nepal, 31 October 2015

Pokharel, Kushal. 2015. Path Towards Self-Sufficiency. The Rising Nepal, 12 December 2015

Pokharel, Pramod Raj. 2015. Our biggest natural resource: Way to prosperity. The Himalayan Times, 4 November 2015

Pokharel, Pramod Raj. 2016. Solar and energy management Pros and cons. The Himalayan Times, 29 December 2015

Pokharel, Bikash. 2015. Revitalization of NAR: For effective reconstruction. The Himalayan Times, 9 October 2015

Poudel, Santosh Sharma. 2015. The visible hand: Either stoking anti-India sentiments or playing the China card is not a viable strategy for Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 9 October 2015

Poudel, Smita. 2015. Deceitful diplomacy: India has often exploited Nepal's vulnerability to serve its interests. República, 13 October 2015

Poudel, Smita. 2015. Not romantic: Aren't we being oblivious to sufferings of thousands of earthquake victims by romanticizing their plight? República, 5 November 2015

Prasain, Dinesh. 2015. Back to the people: Ward-level referendums in disputed districts could be a pragmatic way to resolve demarcation issue. The Kathmandu Post, 30 November 2015

Pudasaini, Som Prasad. 2015. A mighty mess: Nepal needs to make many political and diplomatic changes for the smooth running of the country. The Kathmandu Post, 6 November 2015

Pun, Weena. 2015. That elusive subsidy: Questions every earthquake-affected family will now ask is why the enumeration once again. The Kathmandu Post, 10 October 2015

Pyakurel, Uddhab P. / Adhikari, Indra. 2015. Burden of boundaries: Both population and geography should be taken as criteria for carving constituencies. The Kathmandu Post, 27 November 2015

Rai, Lal Deosa. 2015. Climate change: Threat of glacial lake outbursts. The Himalayan Times, 5 October 2015

Rai, Om Astha. 2015. Onus on Oli: If Oli fails, a Dasain respite will just be an interval before a more violent climax in the Tarai. Nepali Times, 16 October 2015

Rajbhandari Amatya, Meera. 2015. Facing extinction: Private and other guthis have vanished due to the financial burden of keeping them active. The Kathmandu Post, 5 December 2015

Rana, Chanda. 2015. Inhuman blockade: Nepalis are being deprived of their right to live due to shortage of medicines, fuel. The Kathmandu Post, 11 October 2015

Rana, Chanda. 2015. Where's the govt? Hospitals are running out of medicines, but the govt still does not have a plan to resolve the crisis. The Kathmandu Post, 22 November 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Ability Of Nepalese Leadership. Kathmandu Metro, 30 November 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. An Open Letter To Upendra Yadav. Kathmandu Metro, 19 December 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Enforcing New Constitution Against The Will Of Kathmandu Metro, 2 November 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Impeach The President. Kathmandu Metro, 29 December 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. India Fighting A Proxy War In Nepal. Kathmandu Metro, 7 November 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Lifting The Indian Blockade. Kathmandu Metro, 20 November 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Madheshi Leaders for Face Saving. Kathmandu Metro, 13 December 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Modi's Facing Saving Agenda. Kathmandu Metro, 8 December 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Oli's Elevation To Office Of Prime Minister. Kathmandu Metro, 12 October 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Survival Questions. Kathmandu Metro, 6 October 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Why India's Policy On Nepal Failed? Kathmandu Metro, 16 October 2015

Ranjitkar, Siddhi B. 2015. Why Kamal Thapa's Mission To India Failed? Kathmandu Metro, 25 October 2015

Rapacha, Lal-Shyankarelu. 2015. Saving rivers: The polluted rivers across Nepal need serious attention. The Kathmandu Post, 22 December 2015

Rathour, Dikshya Singh. 2015. Hard times: Basic goods are scarce and the general public is badly suffering. República, 9 November 2015

Rawal, Bimal. 2015. Will of the people: It is time to implement the constitution and consolidate the rights of the people. The Kathmandu Post, 6 October 2015

Regmi, Madhab. 2015. Hand in hand It is the duty of every citizen to respect the rights of others while demanding their own. The Kathmandu Post, 16 November 2015

Regmi, Sandhya. 2015. Lift the burden: The state must lead the efforts to rehabilitate and integrate the physically challenged in society. The Kathmandu Post, 10 November 2015

Regmi, Surendra. 2015. New, old politics: Bhattarai's new force will need to prove that it is not just another party among many others. The Kathmandu Post, 26 November 2015

Regmi, Umesh Raj. 2015. Fuel for thought: The prolonged closure of schools due to the fuel shortage and protests could have long-term consequences for students. The Kathmandu Post, 22 November 2015

Rijal, Bicram. 2015. Madhes drift: We should explore forces that have connected and strained relationship between the Madhes and Pahad. The Kathmandu Post, 9 October 2015

Rijal, Bicram. 2015. Middle class mirage: Many in Kathmandu were not aware of the events in the Madhes until the blockade hit them. The Kathmandu Post, 3 November 2015

Rijal, Bicram. 2015. Toilet talk: We need to break the silence and talk about our defecation habits and how they affect our everyday life. The Kathmandu Post, 19 November 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. Babu Ram's Exit Sends Ripples: Political Credentials At Risk. The Rising Nepal, 1 October 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. Baburam At The Crossroads: Too Early To Dismiss Him. The Rising Nepal, 29 October 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. Local Development Planning: Strict Adherence To Process Needed. The Rising Nepal, 31 December 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. Mediation in Nepal: Its cost-benefit effectiveness. The Himalayan Times, 27 October 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. Nation In Crisis: Oli Needs To Act Promptly. The Rising Nepal, 19 November 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. No Alternative To National Unity Govt. The Rising Nepal, 8 October 2015

Rijal, Mukti. 2015. State Restructuring In Nepal: Issues And Problems. The Rising Nepal, 15 October 2015

Sah, Jitendra. 2015. Let there be light: Chhath is not just a festival of the plains but also a symbol of national unity. The Kathmandu Post, 17 November 2015

Sanders, Craig / Busatti, Maurizio. 2015. Finding solutions It is time for all stakeholders to work together to bring the resettlement of Bhutanese refugees to a sustainable end. The Kathmandu Post, 1 December 2015

Sapkota, Prativa. 2015. Power parity: The next president of Nepal should be a woman. The Kathmandu Post, 27 October 2015

Sapkota, Sarita. 2015. Trade over politics: It is not trade that has now made Nepal vulnerable; it is the lack of free trade. República, 16 November 2015

Self, Sharmistha. 2015. Spousal-Differences in Perception of Female Autonomy in Household Decision-Making in Nepal. The Development Journal of the South 1:1,65-81

Shah, Anil. 2015. Leadership void: And other shortcomings. The Himalayan Times, 19 October 2015

Shah, Anil Keshari. 2015. What is wrong with us? Mental revolution needed. The Himalayan Times, 24 November 2015

Shah, Bimal Pratap. 2015. Digital by default: Estonia demonstrates how small countries like Nepal can be digitised in a timely manner. The Kathmandu Post, 1 December 2015

Shah, Bimal Pratap. 2015. The next big thing: Government needs to take necessary steps to step into the era of the Internet of Things. The Kathmandu Post, 29 December 2015

Shah, Puru. 2015. North and South: This is an internal Nepali problem that should be resolved through dialogue, not intimidation, protests or a blockade. Nepali Times, 9 October 2015

Shah, Sukhdev. 2015. Madheshis have lost!. República, 28 October 2015

Shah, Sukhdev. 2015. No blockade: Based on available information there is no evidence to support that India is involved in trade interruption. República, 11 November 2015

Shah, Sukhdev. 2015. Restore Hindu state: Despite its Hindu status Nepal has always functioned as a secular state, with no evidence of religious zealotry. República, 13 October 2015

Shah, Tula Narayan. 2015. Handle with care: Kathmandu's political elites should reach out to the agitating Madhesi forces and seek an amicable solution as soon as possible. The Kathmandu Post, 30 October 2015

Shakya, Sujeev. 2015. A wounded economy: The government's handling of the blockade will determine long-term economic consequences. The Kathmandu Post, 24 November 2015

Shakya, Sujeev. 2015. Home and away: Diaspora organisations in the US are stuck in a rut, but young Nepalis give a reason to be hopeful. The Kathmandu Post, 10 November 2015

Shakya, Sujeev. 2015. Learning from failure: Nepal can cut down its dependency on fossil fuels by generating electricity to meet its household demands. The Kathmandu Post, 13 October 2015

Shakya, Sujeev. 2015. Money in politics: In South Asia, elections are treated as festivals and voters as consumers of lies. The Kathmandu Post, 22 December 2015

Shakya, Sujeev. 2015. The long view: Nepalis are leaving the country because it does not have a favourable environment for work. The Kathmandu Post, 27 October 2015

Sharma, Khagendra Nath. 2015. Disastrous dependency: Nepal must learn from the ongoing fuel crisis and seriously look for alternatives. The Kathmandu Post, 11 October 2015

Sharma, Khagendra Nath. 2015. Lost in transition: Quake survivors shiver under tarpaulins while political parties fight over plum posts. The Kathmandu Post, 20 December 2015

Sharma, Khagendra Nath. 2015. Without direction: Nepali Congress needs to help the government end the crisis in the Tarai and the Indian embargo. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Sharma, Sanjay. 2015. Rule of the few: Even after repeated struggles for democracy, all that Nepal has is kleptocracy. The Kathmandu Post, 11 October 2015

Sharma, Sanjay / Gurung, Ganesh. 2015. Go with a bag: Recognising go-bags as survival tools is just one component of disaster risk reduction measures. The Kathmandu Post, 8 December 2015

Shrestha, Aditya Man / Dhungel, Dwarika Nath. 2015. Show some spunk: In case of Indian military intervention, China will certainly come to Nepal's rescue, turning Nepal into a theater of war. República, 10 November 2015

Shrestha, Dambar Krishna. 2015. The house of god: A place of worship in New York's Little Nepal becomes a symbol of religious tolerance. Nepali Times, 9 October 2015

Shrestha, Hari. 2015. Past glories: Nepali heritage monuments are a blend of various styles introduced by artisans at different periods of history. The Kathmandu Post, 17 November 2015

Shrestha, Hari Prasad. 2015. Season of discontent: The 'unofficial' blockade of Nepal is a diplomatic failure of the Indian government. The Kathmandu Post, 31 December 2015

Shrestha, Hari Prasad. 2015. The great fall: Nepali leaders and India are both to blame for the dismal state of Nepali economy. The Kathmandu Post, 18 December 2015

Shrestha, Krishna K. / Ojha, Hemant R. 2015. Face the future: The ongoing crises present a good opportunity for the rise of a new political force in Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 11 December 2015

Shrestha, Rajendra K. 2015. Disaster preparedness: Lessons leared. The Himalayan Times, 30 October 2015

Shrestha, Rashmi Kiran. 2015. Benefits of sharing: Strong community involvement and benefit sharing enable locals to find innovative solutions to their needs. República, 17 October 2015

Shrestha, Sangita / Dhakal, Sabitri. 2015. Colourful aspects of Indra Jatra. The Himalayan Times, 4 October 2015

Shrestha, Tejman. 2015. Sea of troubles: Nepal should resort to international laws and effective diplomacy to end the unofficial blockade by India. The Kathmandu Post, 1 October 2015

Sigdel, Chahana. 2015. The spectre of the social media: It's difficult to discern how close the correlation is between facts on the ground and fanatical rantings on social media. The Kathmandu Post, 10 October 2015

Silwal, Shail, Suman. 2015. Self sufficient: Which Modi do we believe? The one who promised support for Nepal or the one who imposed blockade? República, 10 October 2015

Simkhada, Nav Raj. 2015. The national scene: Challenges and shortcomings. The Himalayan Times, 18 November 2015

Singh, Birendra Kumar. 2015. Tribhuvan International Airport: Hit by snags. The Himalayan Times, 30 December 2015

Singh, Ganesh Bahadur. 2015. SLC Grading System. The Rising Nepal, 27 October 2015

Singh, Rabindra Bahadur. 2015. Path less travelled: Constructing ropeways will help to get mountainous Nepal's transport system off the ground. The Kathmandu Post, 4 October 2015

Singh, S. Binodkumar. 2015. Exacerbating Instability. Volume 14, No. 19, November 9, 2015

Singh, Sudeep Bahadur. 2015. CSR in Nepal: The poor beneficiaries can now afford two meals a day, schooling for their children and they now have confidence to lead decent lives. República, 31 December 2015

Subba Dewan, Motikala. 2015. Art of survival: I thank Narendra Modi for providing Nepal an opportunity to rethink its future. The Kathmandu Post, 3 November 2015

Subedi, Abhi. 2015. A new chapter: Hopefully, the new generation shall gain a better insight on Nepal-India relations. The Kathmandu Post, 13 December 2015

Subedi, Abhi. 2015. Back to BP: BP Koirala's political and literary visions are not mutually exclusive. The Kathmandu Post, 15 November 2015

Subedi, Abhi. 2015. Beyond borders: South Asia will continue to exist even if Saarc as an institution becomes redundant. The Kathmandu Post, 1 November 2015

Subedi, Abhi. 2015. Historical ties: How do regional politicians and scholars look at the history of Nepal in postcolonial South Asia? The Kathmandu Post, 4 October 2015

Subedi, Ananta Prakash. 2015. Jumbos to the jungle: We should stop using elephants for human entertainment at Chitwan National Park. The Kathmandu Post, 29 December 2015

Subedi, Ananta Prakash. 2015. Power to choose: Community seeds banks should be established across the country to help farmers retain control over their seeds. The Kathmandu Post, 5 November 2015

Subedi, Anjali. 2015. Modi's fall: The fact that he has transformed into a foe from a good friend means nothing to Modi. República, 10 November 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Dealing With A Hegemon. The Rising Nepal, 4 October 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Hinduism And Nepal-India Ties. The Kathmandu Post, 1 November 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Indian Blockade: A Litmus Test For Communists. The Rising Nepal, 20 December 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Keep The Word. The Rising Nepal, 11 October 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Nationalism: Face Of New Government. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Oli Carries A Beacon Of Hope. The Rising Nepal, 18 October 2015

Subedi, Ritu Raj. 2015. Put Your House In Order. The Rising Nepal, 22 November 2015

Subedi, Seema. 2015. Case for quotas: As long as gender discrimination persists in society women will continue to need reservations. The Kathmandu Post, 18 November 2015

Suwal, Rabindra. 2015. Adieu to poverty: Though ambitious, the goal to end poverty by 2030 is still achievable. The Kathmandu Post, 11 November 2015

Tamot, Sophia K. 2015. Pride and prejudice: Is treating women as second-class citizens the only way to avert the possibility of a geopolitical crisis? The Kathmandu Post, 14 October 2015

Thakur, Atul K. 2015. A big letdown: The establishment in New Delhi and Kathmandu do not seem to care for the plight of the Nepalis. The Kathmandu Post, 8 November 2015

Thakur, Atul K. 2015. Going nowhere fast: The Indian establishment's blatant disregard for its own foreign policy has crippled its landlocked neighbour. The Kathmandu Post, 29 November 2015

Thakur, Atul K. 2015. Lost opportunities: The political class is not showing any urgency to end the drawn-out stalemate. The Kathmandu Post, 4 October 2015

Thakur, Atul K. 2015. Tackling the Nepal perception. The Pioneer, 28 December 2015

Thakur, Saket. 2015. No end in sight: The path taken by the ruling elites is likely to exacerbate the current crisis. The Kathmandu Post, 16 October 2015

Thapa, Ajit N.S. 2015. Breaking the impasse: It is in our national interest to bring the agitating Madheshi parties on board the new constitution. República, 17 October 2015

Thapa, Deepak. 2015. Pointing fingers: Diplomatic exchanges between Nepal and India during the 1989-90 blockade are still relevant. The Kathmandu Post, 17 December 2015

Thapa, Deepak. 2015. Seller of dreams: The nation is keen to see Oli implement his plans to make the country self-reliant. The Kathmandu Post, 19 November 2015

Thapa, Deepak. 2015. State of siege: Lashing out in anger against a weak country has only served to reinforce India's image as a regional bully. The Kathmandu Post, 8 October 2015

Thapa, Deepak. 2015. The spoils of peace: The idea of all the parties working as a team can hardly be the basis of a democratic culture. The Kathmandu Post, 5 November 2015

Thapa, Deepak. 2015. Who are we? If we can all rejoice in the richness of our collective cultural heritage, we will all be the better for it. The Kathmandu Post, 31 December 2015

Thapa, Hira Bahadur. 2015. Online Fund-Raising: An Experience. The Rising Nepal, 25 November 2015

Thapa, Hira Bahadur. 2015. Wishful Thinking. The Rising Nepal, 7 October 2015

Thapa, Nirmal. 2015. The MBA journey: Work experience is important because BBA graduates enter job market with less than six months of internship. República, 7 November 2015

Thapa, Shambhu / Thapa, Shardul. 2015. The way ahead: Filing a public interest litigation at the Indian Supreme Court could provide a legal recourse to the ongoing unofficial blockade on Nepal. The Kathmandu Post, 13 October 2015

Thapa, Sushil. 2015. Sustainability Of Hill Farming System. The Rising Nepal, 16 November 2015

Thapa, Ujwal. 2015. World is watching: Indian bureaucrats and diplomats who handle foreign relations with Nepal do not have accurate information on the country. República, 3 October 2015

Thapa, Y.B. 2015. Bangla bondhu: The planned Nepal-Bangladesh oil trade could help break the Indian fuel monopoly. The Kathmandu Post, 18 November 2015

Thapa, Y.B. 2015. Fixing a nation: Economic self-reliance depends on the formation of financial, human, institutional and social capital and their quality. The Kathmandu Post, 8 December 2015

Thebe Limbu, Aangita. 2015. The right to have rights: The new Constitution lays bare misogynistic and patriarchal psyches that usually hide behind nationalism. Nepali Times, 16 October 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Against Politics Of Negation. The Rising Nepal, 21 December 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Challenges Of The New PM. The Rising Nepal, 12 October 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Deepening Crisis. The Kathmandu Post, 23 November 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Failing Talks And Desperate People. The Rising Nepal, 14 December 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Hawkish Indian Vs Weak Nepali Leadership. The Rising Nepal, 5 October 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Hollow Assurances And The State. The Rising Nepal, 28 December 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. Indian Blockade: Friend Behaving As Foe. The Rising Nepal, 9 November 2015

Tiwari, Nandalal. 2015. New Dynamism In Nepal-China Relations. The Rising Nepal, 2 November 2015

Tuladhar, Kamal Ratna. 2015. Head in the clouds: Cycling to Gauchar airport to look at the magnificent flying machines would make my day. The Kathmandu Post, 17 October 2015

Tuladhar, Prateebha. 2015. Imaginary homeland: International refugees in Nepal have been protesting outside the UNHCR premises in Kathmandu with a host of demands, the first and foremost of them being food. The Kathmandu Post, 12 December 2015

Upadhyay, Bhawana. 2015. More than half the sky: Despite their hard work millions of rural women are still socially disadvantaged. The Kathmandu Post, 25 October 2015

Upadhyay, Gunjan. 2015. For a change. República, 20 November 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. 'Jumbo Cabinet - A Compulsion'. The Rising Nepal, 30 December 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. Be Responsible To End Crisis. The Rising Nepal, 25 November 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. Difficulties For The Government. The Rising Nepal, 16 November 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. Enough Is Enough. The Rising Nepal, 4 November 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. Major Parties Must Keep United Face. The Rising Nepal, 7 October 2015

Upadhyay, Narayan. 2015. New Government, New Challenges, New Hopes. The Rising Nepal, 14 October 2015

Upreti, Pratyush Nath. 2015. The other side: People in India want the blockade removed and unique relationship between two countries strengthened. The Kathmandu Post, 28 December 2015

Upreti, Pratyush Nath / Dhital, Asmita. 2015. Right to read: The new government should facilitate the access of visually impaired people to published works. The Kathmandu Post, 18 October 2015

Uprety, Sanjeev. 2015. Flawed discourse: Nepali nationalism is traced by cultural anxiety within the frame of which foreigners conspire to rape mother Nepal. República, 2 November 2015

Vaidya, Suraj. 2015. An uneasy friendship: Ineffective diplomacy should not be a reason to spoil good relations between Nepalis and Indians. The Kathmandu Post, 29 November 2015

Woltersdorf, Adrienne. 2015. Der Berg ruft: Die Nepalesen streiten über ihre Identität, die Erdbebennothilfe ist erst einmal zweitrangig. Internationale Politik und Gesellschaft, 26.10.2015

World Food Program Nepal. 2015. Nepal Earthquake. Nepal Situation Report 26, 05 November 2015

Yadav, Praveen Kumar. 2015. Decisive battle: The suffering masses expected something concrete from Prime Minister KP Oli in his address to the nation; He disappointed. República, 17 November 2015

Yadav, Praveen Kumar. 2015. Madhesh update: All that Madheshis want is to see the new constitution amended on the basis of previous agreements. República, 2 November 2015

Yadav, Praveen Kumar. 2015. Reach out: Even if Madheshi parties withdraw strike, the Madheshi youth will not. República, 15 October 2015

Yami, Hisila. 2015. From Moscow to Mussaria: What a contrast!. The Himalayan Times, 10 November 2015